

Venerdì 17 Marzo 2017, ore 14:30, Sala Wataghin

Antonio Riotto
(Università di Ginevra)

Inflation after the Higgs

The inflationary paradigm is able to explain why our universe is so homogeneous and isotropic and, at the same time, why it contains inhomogeneities, such as galaxies and clusters of galaxies. We will review the current status of the inflationary cosmology, pointing out possible connections to the physics of the Standard Model Higgs.